

Finally, a quick and easy way to get the attention of retail buyers.

Eye on Retail is a daily e-newsletter read by thousands of Retail Buyers and Executives at the largest U.S. retailers including: Target, Costco, Home Depot, Walmart, Dick's and many more.

For the first time ever, sponsorships are available within this influential newsletter. And take it from our current sponsors, the initial results have been...shall we say 'perfect'.

The first six sponsors that appeared in Eye on Retail triggered a direct response from six retailers. That's right, a perfect score! Inquiring retailers included Costco, Home Depot and Menards and our sponsors received invitations to headquarters meetings, product line reviews and more.

FINALLY...a direct pipeline has been laid that connects suppliers to retail buyers. Is there a more prized audience anywhere? Beat your competition to the punch - contact us today to reserve your space and lock-in category exclusivity.

“ The response to our Eye on Retail ad was amazing. We were invited to a Costco line review and also to Home Depot headquarters where we were granted in-store distribution. If you're looking for expanded retail distribution this is the ticket! ”

~ Dig It Apparel

“ We couldn't believe the immediate response from our Eye on Retail ad. We just returned from a business review at Home Depot headquarters – an invite prompted by our ad. Target and Menards also contacted us. Quick, easy and effective – I can't recommend it highly enough. ”

FAQs

What is Eye on Retail?

Eye on Retail is a daily e-newsletter that is read by thousands of Retail Buyers and Executives every weekday morning. We sift through 1,000+ retail stories every morning to find the 10 (or so) that matter. We love data, earnings reports, executive presentations and stories beyond the headlines to get at what's really happening in brick & mortar and online retail.

How is Eye on Retail Unique?

Eye on Retail is unique because it's timely, smart and fun. It's created every morning and delivered to inboxes between 7 and 8 AM CST. That means we're up around 4 AM every morning searching for the retail news that will drive the day. Our early bird strategy is unmatched and is our key competitive advantage.
